

GlobalFit Partners With ManUp™Health and PowerUp™ Giving Members More Weight Loss Solutions

GlobalFit continues to add more weight loss programs to its Gym Network 360 program

PHILADELPHIA, April 7, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- GlobalFit, a leading provider of integrated fitness solutions for corporations and insurers, is excited to announce its recent strategic partnership with ManUp™, an online weight loss program designed for men, as well as PowerUp™, an online weight loss program designed for women, allowing GlobalFit members access to exclusive savings on both programs.

GlobalFit's Gym Network 360 program continues to expand, offering members access to the most relevant and effective nutritional and fitness solutions available, and members are increasingly engaged with GlobalFit's personalized approach to wellness.

"Adding Man UP and Power UP to Gym Network 360 was a huge win for our members. We felt it is important to offer programming that addressed the different needs of men and women when it comes to losing weight. Utilizing the science from one of the world's preeminent metabolism research centers, The University of Colorado Anschutz Health & Wellness Center, both programs deliver the weight loss and behavior changes needed to achieve sustainable health outcomes," said Merideth Harrington, GlobalFit Senior Vice President of Marketing.

Since the start of 2016, GlobalFit has rapidly built more partnerships with top companies in the fitness industry than ever before. They will continue to add more programs and build strategic partnerships with companies who appeal to their client base of 70 million employees and insurance members all over the country.
